

Suggested Sources for Controlled Drug Cabinet Locks

This style is one that I've seen used in many veterinary practices with great success because it is very sturdy and durable. The mechanical style is usually better for most practices than the electronic style because they require no electricity or batteries.

The Unican 9600 Series cabinet locks are specifically designed for cabinet doors, desk drawers, and similar applications. Cabinet locks can be installed in a horizontal or vertical position

The Keyless Lock Store
(<http://www.nokey.com/>),
(516) 625-3184

- Item Number 11431 ,
Approx $100

MrLock
(<http://www.mrlock.com/eshop/locks/mfg/kaba/simplex/9600.html?id=7p2Ldbqo>),
(817) 571-1324

	Deadbolt Models <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Available as a standard cabinet lock or as part of the C9600 Series (model C9601)- Specific models designed for wood or sheet metal- Convertible end or cross throw- Must be manually relocked
	Spring Latch Model <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Part of the C9600 Series (model C9602)- For wood applications only- End throw- Relocks automatically each time door closes

- Model Numbers 9601 or 9602, Approximately $59-65